Subject: smoke stack, captains, eagle scout

For those of us that canoe/kayak/water bike/walk/bike the downtown Fargo-Moorhead reach of the Red, the skyline has changed. The familiar smoke stack from Moorhead's power plant is no more. The attached picture is the view from the river as it fell.

The river hasn't even frozen yet and here we are thinking about spring! We are always looking for additional S.S. Ruby captains. If you or someone you know have extensive on the water experience and are willing to work some weekends, contact us soon for details. Experience can be obtained by canoeing, boating or occasionally, through other means.

Congratulations to Bernard Brayton who recently was conferred with the rank of Eagle Scout. Bernard's project utilized River Keepers' canoes to clean up trash on the banks of the Red. Good job Bernard!
